

Famines

A group of children, mostly young boys, are standing in a line outdoors. They are wearing various colored clothing, including green, red, and brown. Some are holding white bowls and blue plates. In the background, there is a large black pot filled with yellow food, possibly porridge, sitting on the ground. The setting appears to be a rural area with dirt ground and some wooden structures.